FIRST CLASS WORKING AT PSL

PSL – The Food Professionals has achieved a prestigious ‘First Class Best Companies 2010’ accreditation, which recognises great work practices and employee care. Being a ‘Best Company’ goes beyond the bottom line. It's about excelling in every area throughout the workplace and an organisation's commitment to its most important assets – its workforce.

Ivan Shenkman, Managing Director, PSL says: “PSL is very proud to be associated with the Best Companies accreditation. It is a great achievement and one that sets us apart from our peers and adds value to our ever-growing business.”

Jonathan Austin, Founder and CEO of Best Companies comments: “We would like to congratulate PSL on their outstanding achievement. An engaged workforce is essential as organisations move out of the recession and into a more stable economic situation. No doubt many organisations have tackled redundancies and rapid change this year. But organisations like PSL that have kept on engaging their staff and making sure they are involved in the business will be in a good position for the future and should be congratulated for their efforts”.

Based on confidential staff feedback, Best Companies rate businesses according to eight key factors and award a Best Companies Index score according to a fixed standard.

PSL, recognise and value employee’s contributions. Their mission is to deliver food cost savings to their clients without compromising on service or quality; offering a profitable, sustainable, and professional solution to all its clients.
